NOTE.

THE records of this Church, from 1739 to 1765, were retained by the Rev. Mr. Todd, at his dismission, and were never furnished to the Church. Those now extant for the period from 1787 to 1809 are only a compilation, made subsequently by the Scribe, "taken from the best accounts." From 1809 the records are complete. The records of the Society are, with the exception of one year, entire from the beginning.

The statistics following are gathered mostly from the records of the Church and Society ; and, so far as they go, are believed to be reliable. Should any errors or omissions be discovered in them, it is particularly requested that the fact may be communicated to the Pastor, for correction.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

I.—ORGANIZATION.

THE First Congregational Church in Plymouth was organized about A. D. 1739. The precise date cannot now be ascertained. The Ecclesiastical Society connected with it held its first recorded meeting November 20, 1739, at which time it was probably organized in form. That meeting was warned by THOMAS CLARK, Justice of the Peace, on application of JOHN SUTLIFF, EBENEZER RICHARDSON and BARNABAS FORD. The Society was incorporated the same year by the name of NORTHBURY; and was the third Society of the ancient town of Waterbury—Westbury, now Watertown, being the second.

In 1837 forty-nine persons were dismissed from this Church to constitute the Church in TERRYVILLE; and, at the same time, fifty-one to constitute the Church in PLYMOUTH HOLLOW.

II.—MINISTERS.

FIRST.

The first Pastor of this Church was the Rev. SAMUEL TODD. He was born in North Haven, Conn., in 1719; graduated at Yale College in 1734, at the age of 15; and settled in this parish May 8, 1740. He was dismissed from his pastoral office in August, 1764, after a ministry of twenty-four years. "From Plymouth he removed to Lanesboro', Mass., where he labored about two years; thence to Adams, Mass., and originated the first Congregational Church there in 1766, and was its Pastor till 1778. He was a strong whig, and for a brief period was a Chaplain in the Continental army of the Revolution. He next resided for a short time with a son at Northfield, Mass., and then removed to reside with his children at Orford, N. H., about 1782, and united with the Church in that place, during that year. Here he resided till his death, preaching in the new settlements occasionally, when health and declining years would permit. He died June 10, 1789, aged 70. His remains lie buried in Orford, and his grave-stone is in good preservation above them." Letter of Dr. E. T. Foote to Rev. E. Lyman.

SECOND.

Rev. ANDREW STORRS was settled Pastor of this Church, November 27, 1765. He was born in Mansfield, Conn., December 20, 1735; graduated at Yale College in 1760; and died in Plymouth, March 2, 1785, in the fiftieth year of his age, and twentieth of his ministry.

THIRD.

Rev. SIMON WATERMAN, the third Pastor of this Church, was born in Norwich, Conn., January 3, 1737; graduated at Yale College in 1759; was Pastor in the second Church in Wallingford from 1761 till 1787; and was settled over the church in Plymouth, August 29, 1787. He was dismissed November 15, 1809, in the twenty-third year of his ministry, and died November 19, 1813, aged seventy-three.

FOURTH.

Rev. LUTHER HART was a native of Goshen, Conn., born July 27, 1783. He graduated at Yale College in 1807, of which institution he was afterwards a Fellow; was ordained Pastor of this Church September 5, 1810; and died in the midst of the labors of a revival, April 25, 1834; in the fifty-first year of his age and twenty-fourth of his ministry.

FIFTH.

Rev. EPHRAIM LYMAN was born in Goshen, Conn., June 3, 1810. He graduated at Yale College in 1832, and at Yale Theological Seminary in 1835; was ordained Pastor of this Church October 28, 1835; and dismissed June 8, 1851, having nearly completed the sixteenth year of his ministry. He was installed Pastor of the Church in Washington, Conn., June 30, 1852.

SIXTH.

Rev. ISRAEL PERKINS WARREN, the present Pastor, was born in Woodbridge, (now Bethany,) Conn., April 8, 1814. He graduated at Yale College in 1838, and Yale Theological Seminary in 1841; was ordained Pastor of the first Congregational Church in Granby, Conn., April 20, 1842; after a ministry there of three years, removed to Hamden, Mount Carmel, Conn., where he was Pastor a little more than five years; thence removed to Plymouth, and settled Pastor of this Church, October 2, 1851.

The aggregate duration of the ministry of the first five Pastors of this Church is 105 years; being an average of just twenty-one years each. The whole time during which the pastoral office has been vacant from the beginning, is but six years and four months.

BAPTISMAL COVENANT:

TO BE ASSENTED TO BY PARENTS AT THE BAPTISM OF THEIR CHILDREN.

BELIEVING that God has established His Covenant, not only with his people, but with their seed, and desirous to bring your children with yourselves within the gracious provisions of that Covenant, and have applied to them its appointed seal by baptism; you do now, in the presence of this assembly, solemnly devote and give up this child, (or these children,) to God, the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, to be His for ever; and, in reliance upon his grace to engage to train it in His fear and love; to instruct it faithfully in his Word; to set before it a holy example; and, by all means in your power, seek its renewal and sanctification; that it may be prepared to take its place as a member in full in Christ's visible Church on earth, and ultimately, in His glorified Church in Heaven.

To these engagements you solemnly assent.

CONFESSION OF FAITH.

(ADOPTED BY LITCHFIELD SOUTH CONSOCIATION, JUNE 3, 1828.)

(1.) A CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

I. A local body, not provincial or national. Acts ii: 47; xiii: 1; xiv: 23; xviii: 22. Rom. xvi: 1, 5. Acts ix: 31; xv: 41. Rom. xvi: 4. 1 Cor. xvi: 1, 19. 2 Cor. viii: 1. Gal. i: 22. Rev. i: 4.

III. Duty of belonging to it. Matt. v: 16; x: 32, 33. Rom. x: 9, 10.

IV. Its powers.

- (1.) To choose its own officers. Acts i: 15, 23, 26. "Lots" signifying votes. Acts vi: 2—6; xiv: 23. "Ordained" is in the Greek elected by vote. Acts xv: 22, 23. 2 Cor. viii: 19.
- (2.) To discipline offenders. Matt. xviii: 17, 18. Rom. xvi: 17. 1 Cor. v: 4, 5, 9, 11. 2 Cor. ii: 6. 2 Thess. iii: 6.

V. Should counsel in important matters with other churches. Acts xv.

VI. Its officers.

A. Temporary.

1. APOSTLES. Their distinctive work was
 - (a.) To be witnesses of Christ's resurrection. Luke xxiv: 48. Acts i: 8, 22; ii: 32; iv: 33; v: 32; x: 41; xxvi: 16. 1 Cor. ix: 1.
 - (b.) To be inspired teachers. Luke xxiv: 49. John xvi: 13. Acts i: 8.
 - (c.) To work miracles for the establishment of Christianity. Mark iii: 15. 2 Cor. xii: 12.

2. PROPHETS. Acts xiii: 1; xv: 32; xxi: 10. Rom. xii: 6. 1 Cor. xii: 28; xiv: 1.

Apostles and Prophets having inspired and miraculous gifts, can have no successors.

B. Permanent.

1. MINISTERS. Luke i: 2. 1 Cor. iv: 1. Col. i: 7.
 - (a.) Having charge of a particular church. Called Angels. Rev. i: 20; ii: 1, 8, 12, &c. Bishops or Overseers. Acts xx: 28. Phil i: 1. Presbyters or Elders. Acts xiv: 23; xv: 4, 6; xx: 17. 1 Tim. v: 17. Titus i: 5. 1 Pet. v: 1. Pastors. Eph iv: 11. These were all equal in grade, and their names used interchangeably. Acts xx: 17, 28. 1 Tim. iv: 14. Titus i: 5, 7. 1 Pet. v: 1.
 - (b.) Not having charge of a particular church. Exchange-lists. Acts xxi: 8. Eph. iv: 11. 2 Tim. iv: 5.
2. DEACONS. Acts vi: 1—6. Phil. i: 1. 1 Tim. iii: 10—12.

(2) BAPTISM. Matt. xxviii: 19. Mode of administration.

I. Immersion not necessary.

1. John's baptism.

(a.) Was not Christian baptism.

(a.) The gospel dispensation was not yet instituted—it was “at hand.” Matt. iii: 2.

(b.) It was not administered in the name of the Trinity. Matt. xxviii: 19. Acts xix: 1—7.

(b.) There is no proof that John immersed. John iii: 23. “Much water” is literally “many waters,” i. e. springs or streams. It would be needed for drink and other uses by the multitudes who came with their animals to attend John's preaching.

2. The baptism of Christ,

(a.) Was only John's baptism.

(b.) No evidence that he was immersed. The Greek word translated “into” often means “to.” Matt. viii: 18; xvii: 27; xxi: 1. John i: 11. Acts xviii: 6. “Out of” also often signifies “from.” Mark i: 11; xi: 8; xiii: 27; xvi: 3. John viii: 42. Acts xxviii: 4.

(c.) Christ was baptised not for the “washing away of sin,” but “to fulfill all righteousness.” For the requirements of the law respecting those about to become public teachers, see Ex. xxix: 4; xl: 12, 13. Numb. viii: 7.

3. The baptism of the Eunuch. For “into” and “out of” see above.

4. Rom. vi: 3 and Col. ii: 12. These refer to an internal and spiritual baptism. The outward rite produces no such effects as are here described.

5. 1 Cor. x: 1, 2. For the mode of baptism in this case, compare Ex. xiv: 22, with Ps. lxxvii: 17.

II. Baptisms which were not immersions. Dan. iv: 33. Mark vii: 2—4. Heb. ix: 10. The original word in these cases is “baptisms.” For the nature of these baptisms in Heb. ix: 10, see Lev. xiv: 7. Numb. viii: 7; xix: 17, 18. Isa. lii: 15.

III. Examples of baptism by affusion or sprinkling.

1. The three thousand, Acts ii: 41. There was no time to immerse; no place to do it in; no preparation for clothing; no water sufficient.

2. Paul. Acts ix : 18.
3. The centurion. Compare Acts x : 44 with x : 47.
4. The Jailer. Acts xvi : 33—done in the prison, past midnight, and “straightway.”
5. The descent of the Holy Spirit, called baptism, was in the form of affusion. Acts i : 5, 8 ; ii : 3, 17, 33, 38, 41.

(3) THE LORD'S SUPPER. Matt. xxvi : 26—30. 1 Cor. xi : 23—27.

(4) BAPTISM OF HOUSEHOLDS.

- I. God established His covenant with Abraham and his seed, and thus founded His visible church. Gen. xvii : 2, 7, 9, 19, 21.
- II. Its seal, circumcision, was commanded to be applied to “the seed.” Gen. xvii : 10, 12, 23.
- III. This covenant, the basis of the Christian Church. Rom. iv : 11—18. Eph. ii : 19—22.
 1. Is an everlasting covenant. Gen. xvii : 7.
 2. Was not abrogated by the Mosaic law. Deut. xxix : 13. 1 Chron. xvi : 15. 2 Kings xiii : 23. Gal. iii : 17.
 3. Christ came to confirm it. Luke i : 54, 72 73. Heb. viii : 10.
 4. Is identical with the gospel. John viii : 56. Rom. iv : 11—18. Gal. iii : 7—29.
- IV. Its seal only changed from circumcision to baptism. Rom. iv : 11. 1 Cor. vii : 18. Gal. v : 2, 6. Matt. xxviii : 19. 1 Cor. xii : 13. Col. ii : 11. Phil. iii : 3. 1 Pet. iii : 21.
- V. The apostles applied the new seal, baptism, just as the old one had been applied, to believers and their households. Acts xvi : 15, 33. 1 Cor. i : 16.

ART. XI. You believe that at the end of time the Lord Jesus Christ will descend from heaven to raise the dead (1) and judge the world ; (2) that then there will be no further state of probation ; (3) and that the righteous will be received into life eternal ; (4) and the wicked go away into everlasting punishment. (5)

- (1.) John v : 28 ; vi : 40. Acts xxiv : 15. 1 Cor. xv : 12—58.
- (2.) Matt. xi : 24. Acts xvii : 31 ; xxiv : 25. Rom. xiv : 10. 2 Cor. v : 10. 2 Tim. iv : 1. 2 Pet. iii : 7. Rev. xx : 12.
- (3.) Eccl. ix : 10. Heb. ix : 27. Rev. xxii : 11.
- (4.) Matt. xxv : 46. John xiv : 3 ; xvii : 24. 1 John iii : 2.
- (5.) Isa. xxxiii : 14. Matt. xiii : 41, 49, 50 ; xxv : 46. Mark iii : 29 ; ix : 43, 45, 48. Luke xvi : 23. John v : 29. Rom. ii : 5, 8, 9. 1 Cor. xvi : 22. 2 Pet. ii : 4. Rev. xx : 15 ; xxii : 15.

Thus you profess to believe.

C O V E N A N T .

CONVINCED of your guilt, and professing unfeigned repentance for your sins, and a humble reliance on JESUS CHRIST for pardon and eternal life, you do now, in the presence of God and this assembly, (acknowledge and confirm that dedication which your parents made of you to God in childhood as binding upon you in person ; and you do now in your own name,) seriously and forever give up yourselves to God the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost ; avouching the Lord Jehovah to be your God ; Jesus Christ to be your Prophet, Priest, and King ; and the Holy Ghost your Sanctifier, Comforter, and Guide. You promise, divine grace assisting you, to receive in love the pure doctrines of the gospel ; to walk in the statutes and ordinances of the Lord, and to adorn your high and holy vocation by a life of piety towards God, and of benevolence towards your fellow men.

 You do hereby recognize the baptism you received in childhood as the seal of this covenant, confirming to you its promises and binding you to all its obligations.*

You do also cordially join yourselves to this Church of Christ, engaging to submit to its discipline till regularly dismissed therefrom ; to promote its edification, purity, and peace ; to walk with and watch over its members in Christian love ; to observe the Sacraments of the New Testament ; to sanctify the Lord's day ; to attend upon the public worship of the sanctuary, and as far as consistent upon the stated and occasional meetings of the Church ; and to discharge all those duties by which God may be glorified, and the religion of the Bible extended and established among men.

You enter into these solemn engagements in humble dependence on the grace of God, and with an affecting belief that your vows are recorded on high, and will be reviewed in the day of final judgment.

To this covenant you give your cordial consent.

 The words in Italics to be used only in the admission of persons who were baptized in infancy.*

(THE CHURCH RISE.)

We then as a Church do cordially receive you into our fellowship and communion, and give thanks to God, who, we trust, has inclined your heart to fear his name. We promise to treat you with Christian affection ; to watch over you with tenderness, and to offer our prayers to the great Head of the Church, to enable you to fulfill the solemn covenant which you have now made.

The Lord bless you and keep you ; the Lord make his face shine upon you, and be gracious unto you ; the Lord lift up his countenance upon you, and give you peace ; make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight through Jesus Christ ; to whom be glory for ever and ever, Amen.

STANDING RULES.

I. There shall be an annual meeting of this Church, on the afternoon of the Tuesday following the first Sabbath in January, for the appointment of Officers, and the transaction of any other needful business. Special meetings may be called by the Pastor by notice from the pulpit ; or if there be no Pastor, or if he refuses to act, by notice from the clerk or any five members, either read from the pulpit or posted one week previous on the door of the Sanctuary.

II. Any person wishing to join this Church by a profession of religion, or upon recommendation from another Church, shall be proposed for membership at least two weeks previous to admission ; but no person shall be received except on vote of the Church.

III. Any person wishing a dismission and recommendation from this Church may, if no objection is made, receive it at the time of presenting the request. If objection is made, the subject shall be laid over for at least two weeks, when, unless the objection is made good and regular discipline commenced, the request shall be granted. Provided that no letter of dismission shall be given to any member save to unite with some other Church.

IV. Members of this Church intending to reside for any considerable length of time in other places are expected to take either letters of dismission or introduction and commendation to those among whom they dwell ; and members of other Churches coming to reside with us are requested to do the same.

V. This Church will receive to its communion in the ordinances of the gospel, members of all other evangelical Churches who are in good and regular standing ; but will require that certificate of such standing be presented when this communion is desired for more than one year.

VI. There shall be appointed annually a Clerk, Treasurer, and Receiver of benevolent contributions ; and also a standing Committee not exceeding seven in number, to aid the Pastor in examining candidates for admission, and to attend to cases of discipline as hereafter provided.

But the Church do not thereby relinquish the right or responsibility of knowing personally the qualifications of all who desire to unite with them ; nor absolve any member from the duty of presenting for trial any cases of offense which may come to his knowledge.

VII. The following is regarded by this Church as the proper mode for the administration of discipline, which in all ordinary cases is to be observed.

SEC. 1. Of Disciplinable Offenses.—Members are liable to discipline for private injuries to their brethren ; for immoralities, including such inproprieties of conduct as bring public reproach on religion ; for heresy ; for violation of their church covenant ; and for contumacy. But no complaint for any offense shall be entertained, unless presented within one year from the time when said offense became known to the complainant.

SEC. 2. Of the Preliminary Steps.—In all cases of private offense, the aggrieved party, before entering complaint, must have taken the first and second steps, prescribed by our Savior in Matt. xviii : 15—17. In cases of public or general offense, the Church may proceed in the same steps by its standing committee ; except when the offense is flagrant and notorious, in which case the church may pronounce summary censure without the formalities of a trial.

SEC. 3. Of Process and Trial.—The previous steps having been taken without effect, the complaint specifying the offense, and naming the witnesses, shall be presented in writing to the Pastor, or in his absence, to the Clerk, who shall thereupon call a meeting of the Church for its consideration. He shall also send an attested copy of the complaint to the accused with a citation to appear at said meeting and answer thereto ; also a notification to the witnesses with a request to attend and give evidence. At said meeting the complaint shall be read, when, if the Church entertain it, the accused shall be called upon for his answer.* If thereupon satisfactory confession be not made, the Church shall proceed to hear the evidence in the case on both sides, and the accused shall also have the right to make his own statement or explanation, either in person or by some other member of the Church whom he may request to aid him. The case shall then be submitted to the Church, each member of which may express his opinions concerning it ; after which they shall decide by vote, (or by ballot when three members desire it,) whether the complaint is sustained. But no person shall be convicted but upon the evidence of at least two witnesses, (of which one may be the complainant,) or what is equivalent thereto.

If at the appointed time, the accused person, having been regularly cited, shall wilfully refuse to appear, the case shall be adjourned to another meeting, and a second citation for his appearance issued; and if he again refuse to appear, he shall be adjudged guilty of contumacy. Any church member also who shall wilfully refuse to attend and give evidence in any case in which he shall be regularly cited, shall be deemed guilty of contumacy.

SEC. 4. Of Censures.—When a member has been convicted on regular trial, or has been declared guilty of contumacy, attested notice thereof, together with solemn admonition shall be addressed to him in writing by the Pastor, (or in his failure, by the Clerk,) which admonition shall suspend him until further action is had, from the communion of the Church. If then, after a reasonable time, confession and satisfaction be not made, the Church, due notice having been given to the offender, may proceed to the final act of his excommunication; a copy of which shall be sent to him, and in flagrant cases, when demanded by the honor of religion, shall, at the order of the Church, be read before the congregation.

Voluntary confession of any or all of the offenses specified in the complaint, with evidence of repentance, may be offered at any stage of proceedings in discipline; which, if satisfactory to the Church, shall arrest all further process on the matters confessed, and restore the person, so far as respects them, to his regular standing; but shall not affect the proceedings upon any other allegations contained in the complaint.

SEC. 5. Of the "Lesser Excommunication."—If a person not otherwise scandalous, separates irregularly from the church, or walks disorderly, the Church may, after due labor, withdraw from him their watch and fellowship, by which act he shall cease to be a member thereof.

VIII. When members of other Churches, residing among us, shall walk disorderly, due labor and admonition should be extended to them as to our own members; and, in case they are not reclaimed, it shall be the duty of the Pastor and Standing Committee to notify the Churches to which such offenders belong.

IX. No member may refuse to attend with the Church, on any ordinance of the Gospel on account of dissatisfaction with the Church, with its Pastor, or any of its members; and any such refusal shall be deemed a violation of his covenant with the Church, and shall be dealt with accordingly.

X. These rules may be altered or amended at any annual meeting of the Church, provided that one week's notice thereof shall have been previously given from the pulpit. They shall be read, together with the Confession of Faith and Covenant, before the Church and Congregation on the Sabbath preceding each annual meeting.

RULES OF ORDER FOR CHURCH MEETINGS.

Abridged chiefly from Punchard's View of Cong., page 286.

IN Congregational Churches the Pastor is regarded as the Standing Moderator of the Church. If there be no Pastor, or if he be absent or refuse to act in any regular meeting, any member may nominate a moderator, pro. tem., and put the question of his election. If the same meeting be adjourned to another day, the same officers preside again, for an adjournment is but the continuance of the same meeting.

Every motion should be made in writing if required by any member ; and when seconded should be read by the moderator and submitted to the consideration of the Church. Until this motion is disposed of, no other proposition except amendments, or what are called privileged motions can be entertained. An amendment may go to the exclusion, addition or substitution of words or sentences ; indeed, a motion to amend by striking out all the words after the word "Resolved," and substituting an entirely new proposition upon the same subject, is in order. Until some vote has been taken on a resolution or an amendment to it, it may be withdrawn by the mover. Privileged motions may be made at any time ; such is the motion to postpone indefinitely, to commit to a committee, to lay on the table, (which means to lay aside for the present,) to postpone to a future time fixed, for the previous question, and to adjourn. All these motions may be debated except the last two. The motion to adjourn takes precedence of all others ; but no motion can be made when a member is speaking but with his consent. The previous question is, shall the main question now be put? If decided by the Church in the affirmative, all debate shall then cease, and the main question as proposed by the mover shall be taken.

When any motion is before the Church, (except for the previous question or to adjourn,) every member has a right to express his views concerning it ; and while doing so, the Moderator is bound to confine him in his remarks to the point under consideration, and also to protect him against all interruption, except to call him to order if he violates the rules of courtesy, or of debate ; but after the matter of order is adjusted, he has a right to go on to the end of his remarks.

The proposition last made is always the one under consideration, and the first to be voted upon ; so that when several amendments or propositions are before the meeting, the order in which they are to be voted upon is usually the reverse of the order in which they are made. If several sums are proposed, the largest is to be first put to vote ; if several times, the longest ; and generally as to numbers, the largest.

When a motion is put to vote it should be first clearly stated from the chair, so that there may be no possible misunderstanding about it. If the votes on each side are equal, the Moderator has a casting vote ; or if by voting he can make them equal, he may do so, in which case the motion is lost.

If any member thinks the Moderator in error, or that an accurate count would change the result, he has a right to demand it immediately, when the question must be put again and the votes carefully counted. After the question is put to vote there can be no debate, and no new proposition made, until the voting is finished. After the vote is taken, any member who voted in the majority may move a reconsideration ; which motion opens the subject again for debate ; and if the vote to reconsider is adopted, the whole matter stands just as it did before the reconsidered vote was taken.

Questions of order are to be decided by the Moderator, but if any member thinks the decision incorrect he can appeal to the meeting, whose decision is final.

The Moderator commonly appoints any committees which are to be raised ; but the Church may, on motion, appoint them by nomination or by ballot. If any three members request it, the appointment should in all cases be made by ballot. When the report of a committee is made, the question will first be on accepting the report, (which means to receive it from the committee and take it into consideration,) and discharging the committee ; then on adopting it, (which means to approve and pass its recommendations as the action of the Church.)

A member who has a motion to make, may preface it with such remarks as explain his design, but with this exception, speaking is out of order, unless some definite proposition has been submitted, and is under consideration.
